
Urban Regeneration in Spitalfields

The role of the Spitalfields Market Community Trust

UBU

June 1996

BCU-76
BFZ

8660

Urban Regeneration in Spitalfields

The role of the Spitalfields Market Community Trust

By

D. J. Segaar

Universiteit Utrecht
BIBLIOTHEEK CENTRUM UITHOF

The Spitalfields Market Community Trust
Attlee House
28 Commercial Street
London E1 6LR

June 1996

RIJKSUNIVERSITEIT TE UTRECHT

2699 208 5

Preface

This report was written for the Spitalfields Market Community Trust by Derk Segaar who the SMCT employed as an urban geographic researcher. Derk Segaar is currently a post graduate student in urban geography and will use this report for his dissertation. Mr. T. Budgen, Secretary of the Trust and Mr. J. Mumford, Head of Property Services from Providence Row Housing Association, have been supervising the five month research.

This report would not have been possible without the co-operation and assistance given by the Bangladesh Welfare Association, the Tower Hamlets Environment Trust, Spitalfields Christ Church, Avenues Unlimited, the Management Committee of Spitalfields Farm, the SSBA, Bethnal Green City Challenge, the Bangladesh Youth Association, Community Landuse, the Brick Lane Small Business Association and the London Borough of Tower Hamlets. I deeply appreciate their contributions to this report.

I would also like to extend our thanks to those contributions made by individuals and leading academics, John Mason of Middlesex University, Kay Jordan of the SSBA, John Aldentum of the Tower Hamlets Environment Trust, Eric Reynolds of Spitalfields Space Management Limited and Jonathan Mumford of Providence Row Housing Association, who are interested in issues of sustainable regeneration.

The views in this report are however my own.

Particular thanks for suggestions and support for this research must be given to colleagues in the Spitalfields Market Community Trust (Tim, Sandra and Shabia) and Hannah and Mark Turin.

Derk Segaar (SMCT)

June 1996